THE EXTRA SPECIAL

Romance is literally in the air when HeliThai caters to special requests such as wedding proposals. The message “Marry Me” is written in the sand at Nai Yang beach and the helicopter that takes the couple up for a regular sight-seeing tour would fly over the words just before landing. This romantic gesture would cost just THB 3,000 on top of the cost of the tour ride.

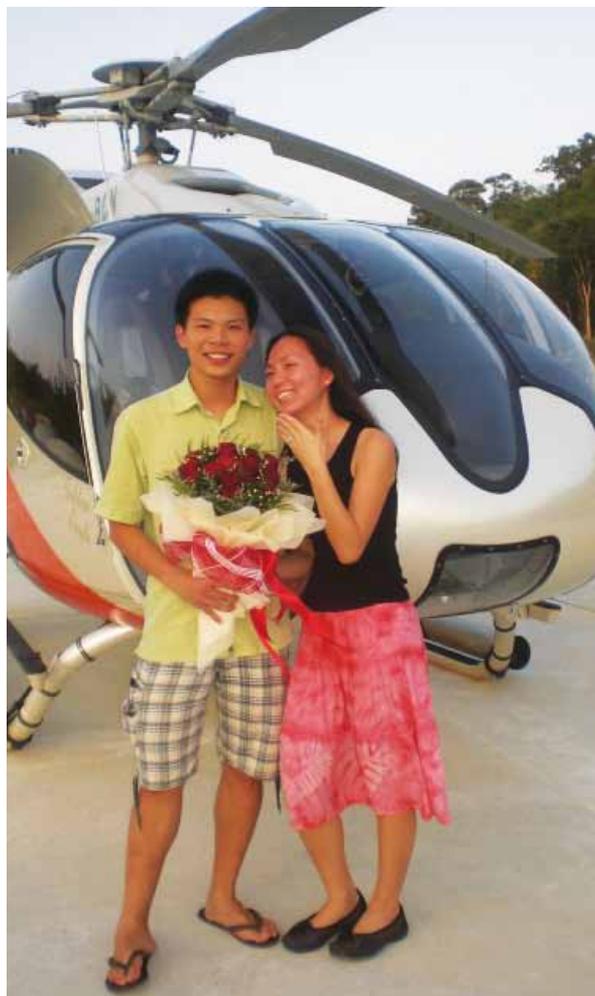

Other special arrangements can also be made. Most recently, an Australian gentleman who wanted to propose to his girlfriend requested for a sunset flight. When the couple boarded the flight, music that he had provided was played in the headsets for the journey and the helicopter landed at the Sri Panwa hotel where he had organised a romantic dinner. As soon as they landed, he proposed and this wonderful surprise was of course, met with an ecstatic response.

Flights have also been chartered to ferry passengers to neighbouring islands. A helicopter was recently booked by four young party-goers to take them to Koh Phangan for the Full Moon Party. It waited the night for them and returned with a slightly more dehydrated group the next day. This little expedition cost the party around USD$6,000.

Customised flight arrangements can be made with HeliThai to your preference. The company is willing to accede to requests within their abilities and as long as safety isn't compromised. A minimum of three hours notice is needed for a booking and the company can cater to flight requests anywhere within their range limit before refueling.

Clients will have to depart from where the helicopter is located. However, they can request for a re-positioning of the aircraft to another location, at an additional cost. Landing fees would apply at THB 3,000 per landing. Daily rental can also be organised, with a minimum of two hours, whether or not the helicopter is eventually used.

On top of offering scenic journeys and aerial thrills, HeliThai is also involved in providing services for the filmmaking business. The company's helicopters have been used for aerial filming for a variety of international movies and major Hollywood productions such as Bourne Legacy, The Hangover - Part 2, Temptation Island, Fantastic Four: The Rise of the Silver Surfer, and Home. Equipped with quality equipment and reliable contacts, the company provides consultancy for aerial filming in the Phuket Province and Southeast Asia. It also handles all the Thai license and permit arrangements for mega yachts that have private helicopters on board.
